

BOARD AND ADVISORY COMMITTEES

The primary role of the board of the directors of The American Wildlife Foundation is to set corporate policy and to assist with fund raising efforts.

The Board of Directors

JANETTE ACKERMANN, President

Ms. Ackermann is co-director and AWF's wildlife veterinarian, and the daughter of founding donors, Helmut and Christine Ackermann, whose generous contribution began AWF. She succeeds her father to make sure our mission stays on course.

RICK CARL, Vice President

Associated with AWF since its inception, Mr. Carl works closely with staff to support computer hardware and software, and to create and maintain an internet web presence for the organization.

KIMBERLY SUPERNEAU, Sec/Treasurer

Ms. Superneau is a Senior Financial Consultant for Heritage Bank, and has been in the financial services industry for more than 15 years. She combines her passion for wildlife, conservation, and the environment, with her relationship skills as a financial planner and asset manager to support AWF's fund raising efforts.

Education Programs

AWF offers education and information programs to children and adults, on and off site as resources allow, by request. WILDLIFE APPRECIATION programs continue to be our most popular tours as people visit our animal care center to see native wildlife up close.

Animal Care

Over the years thousands of animals have been brought to AWF's animal care clinic. Most are victims of increasing urbanization, including hit-by-car, dog or cat attack, herbicide or pesticide poisoning, or starvation due to loss of territory. Animals are referred to AWF by most major state organizations, including the ODFW, as well as veterinarians and other animal care professionals.

Information Dissemination

AWF continues to fulfill our mission by passing out information fliers and brochures, answering phone and website inquiries, and presenting to community organizations upon request. Our website (www.awildfound.org) and FaceBook page (www.facebook.com/pages/American-Wildlife-Foundation/280901648596860) are a strong and growing presence, receiving local, national, and international inquiries about wildlife care and conservation.

Special Thanks to Our Supporters!

AWF completes its mission via the support of very special people who care about the environment and the animals who live in it, including all of our donors and our volunteers, only a few of whom do we have space to list. Our thanks to:

- Ouida Mundy Hill Designated Fund, HI
- Kinsman Foundation, OR
- Wildlife Support Charitable Trust, WA
- Providence Medical Center, OR
- Oregon Health Sciences University, OR
- Veterans Administration Hospital, OR
- ODFW Fish Hatcheries
- our dedicated volunteers

We couldn't do it without you!

Remember the animals when planning your annual giving. They need your help too, now more than ever.

MANAGEMENT STAFF

The American Wildlife Foundation's management staff is responsible for overseeing operations and fund raising, and maintaining AWF's volunteer program.

JACQUELINE CARL
Chief Executive Officer

Ms. Carl graduated from San Diego State University with a Bachelors Degree in Journalism--advertising/public relations emphasis. Always interested in the fields of animal welfare and conservation, Ms. Carl has volunteered for wildlife rehabilitation organizations a good part of her life. A few years after having worked in a local marketing/public relations firm, she returned to school and obtained her Masters Degree in Business Administration at the University of San Diego. She was subsequently hired as the community relations director at the local humane society. Wanting to return to her original interests in wildlife care and conservation, Ms. Carl joined forces with Dr. Ackermann to open AWF.

JANETTE ACKERMANN, DVM
Chief of Veterinary Services

Dr. Ackermann graduated from the Mississippi State University School of Veterinary Medicine specializing in Zoo, Wildlife and Exotic Animal Medicine. She has a Bachelors Degree in Zoology and a Masters Degree in Conservation Biology, and has completed internships in her field under James Carpenter, DVM, M.S., ACZM, at Kansas State University, and Stuart Porter, VMD, at the Wildlife Center of Virginia. Most recently she completed a three-year residency under Patrick Redig, DVM, Ph.D., at the University of Minnesota's well-known Raptor Center. During her extensive training in the field of wildlife medicine, Dr. Ackermann's work has been published in several veterinary journals, including the Avian Medical Journal and the AVMA Journal.
