

I want to Schedule an Education/Information Program

AWF provides conservation education programs to schools, clubs, libraries and social organization upon request. As we encourage people to take an active interest in conservation and wildlife care, we ask a minimum donation for our programs (see below), which includes an annual membership. Fees go towards the care of animals brought to the clinic and rehab center

Please note, because of the stress it places on the animals, they are not always part of our education programs and, even if scheduled, can be withdrawn as necessary for the health, safety and comfort of the animal. AWF is in the process of building a nature trail and environmental education center, where education tours are scheduled and non-releasable animals can be seen. We are encouraging on-site tours and education programs, but you will have to bear with us, our facility will be completed as quickly as resources allow.

Off-Site Environmental Education Excursions are often coordinated in conjunction with the Bureau of Land Management. These presentations may include any of the following, depending on location: slide or display board, museum displays, education materials, and guest lecturer. If an individual animal is "adopted" by the organization, that animal can be featured in the presentation.
